Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 21 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright and sunny spells developing.

Today:
A damp start for some, mostly likely around the Glasgow area and into Lanarkshire, but soon dry with bright and sunny spells developing. The best of the sunshine expected through Argyll and over the islands. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
A fine end to the day with much of the cloud fading away, skies often clear overnight. Chilly around dawn as winds fall light. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
Bright for much of the day with plenty of sunshine. However, cloud gradually increasing from the west, patchy rain possible in the evening, mainly across Argyll and the islands. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain and drizzle on Wednesday and Thursday. Rain clearing south on Friday, bright or sunny spells developing.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.